

Mobimatic | Mobimatic App Builder | Mobimatic Review Demo

Stop and listen carefully I'm about to reveal a rather disturbing secret about the smartphone you are holding right now. Do you know that the little icons on your smartphone you're holding to make you up to 3,000 every five minutes.

Okay sounds strange but I'll let me to explain the growth of mobile apps is so fast environment in taking over everywhere like a heavy sandstorm in the desert. In today's world every business must have a mobile app to be able to get more customers for their businesses or else they'd be left in the dark and buried by the competition.

The real problem for businesses is that building a mobile app for business does not come cheap for making a mobile app can be very expensive to hire an average app developer to create a very simple mobile app costs about three thousand dollars and that is just too expensive for something that is small.

But for you it is a gold mine if you know how to create mobile and it is a non-stop cash flow into your pocket creating and selling these apps to businesses.

Well not to worry about that because here is a software that you can use to build an android or iOS App in less than five minutes with zero experience. After three years of development we created a piece of technology so outrageously powerful that first most people would call an impossible, filled with the state-of-the-art technology; regular people less techy than you and with zero previous experience and technical skills are actually creating professional mobile apps in less than five minutes. As I speak it is the easiest fastest drag-and-drop at building tool on the planet that is getting rave reviews and success stories like never before.

It contains over 30 powerful features that can help you build top notch mobile business app for any business. You can build almost any type of marketing and business app, is it ecommerce apps, Shopify store apps, amazon affiliate store apps, cpa marketing apps, wordpress blogs apps, you name it and it will do it for you and it does not end there. When we mean any business, we mean professional apps for nightclubs, sports clubs, video rentals, car dealerships, social organizations, media stations, TV, radio etc schools, governments, financial industries, gyms and fitness, service contractors, dentists, auto repair shops, health spas, bands and DJs and many more. And to cap it all you can create these apps with the powerful feature; instant push notification meaning that you will always get the attention of their customers who installed the app you created for their businesses.

Oh I'm so excited about this powerful software that I forgot to tell you its name, introducing to you Mobimatic, the automated revolutionary mobile app building robots.

This software did not come by chance on the stage. I and my partner had been in the business for a long time building apps for businesses and marketers. We've built lots of businesses and marketing apps for hundreds of clients over the years, we've had our own fair share of the challenges that comes with building a mobile and we know the time energy and money needed to build a mobile app, we had to code and build everything for our clients.

We're putting a lot of work to build the apps for our clients. Then one Appful day, we ask ourselves the big question why don't we set up a robust system that can automate the entire process of building mobile applications that we can easily set up mobile apps for as many clients as we want without investing all that time, energy and money.

This was how Mobimatic was born. Initially Mobimatic was an in-house tool that our team used in building apps for businesses and marketers. Normally it would take our team two weeks to build mobile apps for clients but with this software we did a promo and build 147 apps in one month using Mobimatic it was epic and guess what I'm like when we did things manually the apps vomited by Mobimatic had absolutely no bugs every one of them worked perfectly not only did it increase our speed, the apps built by the system had more features. It was bug-less and the best part was the non-programmers in our team took over giving our programmers enough time to work on our future software.

Now enough of the small talk. So let's show you how it works simply watch the video below to see how this magic happen right before your eyes.
